Emergency Notices to Your Phone

When the City of Georgetown's 9-1-1 emergency operators need to contact a neighborhood about an immediate threat to human life or property, such as a threatening wildfire or a fuel tanker spill, they can use the Emergency Notification System to quickly send a voice message to thousands of phones. This is an update to an article on this topic in the November issue.

If you only have a mobile phone, or if your home phone service is with Suddenlink or another voice-over-IP provider, then your phone number may not be in the 9-1-1 database.

You can register a phone number at <http://wireless.capcog.org>. The cell phone registry and the 9-1-1 emergency communications database are provided by the Capital Area Council of Governments or CAPCOG. If you have questions or want to register a number by phone, call the CAPCOG Homeland Security Division at (512) 916-6035.

Collectible Christmas Ornament

A collectible brass Christmas ornament featuring the Georgetown Light and Water Works building goes on sale during the week of Thanksgiving. The Light and Water Works plant was built 100 years ago, marking the beginning of community-owned utilities in Georgetown. The building currently houses the Georgetown Police Department.

The cost of the ornament is $20 and all proceeds will be used for the "Light Up the Square" campaign to help add more holiday lighting in downtown. The ornaments can be purchased at the Visitor Information Center at 101 E. Seventh Street. The annual ornament sale is a project of the Georgetown Main Street Program.
